

Congressional Buildings

You will have to go through metal detectors upon entering each building. You will be asked to put your bags on a separate x-ray machine, empty your pockets, and remove your watches/belts.

House of Representatives

***There are tunnels that connect all three buildings.

Rayburn House Office Building is south of the Capitol bounded by Independence Ave., South Capitol St., C St. SE, and First St. SE.

- Rooms are four digits, beginning with 2, B, or SB (for basement and sub-basement). The second digit indicates the floor number.

*** Tunnel's entrance is on the sub-basement (SB) level of the Rayburn building after descending down an escalator.

Longworth House Office Building is south of the Capitol bounded by Independence Ave., South Capitol St., C St. SE, and New Jersey Ave.

- Longworth is the center building on any map of the House side.
  - Rooms are four digits beginning with 1. The second digit indicates the floor number.
- *** Tunnel can be accessed from the basement. At the entrance to the tunnel from the basement of Cannon you can find a separate hallway tunnel to the Longworth House Office Building.

Cannon House Office Building is south of the Capitol bounded by Independence Ave., First St. SE, C St. SE, and New Jersey Ave.

- Cannon is the building closest to the Metro on the House side.
  - Cannon room numbers are three digits. The 1st digit indicates the floor number.
- *** Tunnel can be accessed from the basement.

Senate

On the Senate side, the 1st digit of the room number indicates the floor.

*** There are tunnels that connect all three buildings and can be accessed from the basement. Dirksen and Hart are connected on every floor.

Russell Senate Office Building is north of the Capitol bounded by Constitution Ave., First St. NE, Delaware Ave., and C St. NE.

- Room numbers beginning with SR are in Russell.

Dirksen Senate Office Building is northeast of the Capitol bounded by Constitution Ave., First St. NE, Second St. NE, and C St. NE, adjoins the Hart Senate Office Building

- Dirksen is the center building on the Senate side.
- Room numbers beginning with DR are in Dirksen.

Hart Senate Office Building is northeast of the Capitol bounded by Constitution Ave., First St. NE, Second St. NE, and C St. NE, adjoins the Dirksen Senate Office Building.

- Room numbers beginning with HR are in Hart.